Spartans and friends are invited to attend Alumni University, sponsored by the MSU Alumni Association. This two-day educational event brings Spartans back to MSU to have fun, reminisce and tour new sites on campus — all while learning from some of MSU’s best educators.

While every effort is made to ensure no changes happen, unforeseen circumstances may lead to a class cancellation or rescheduling. If this happens to a class you are registered for, you will be asked to pick a new class.
ALUMNI UNIVERSITY COSTS

A $60 (per person) registration fee will cover the cost of the following:

- A welcome reception at the Tom Izzo Hall of History
- Campus activities and tours
- Afternoon refreshments hosted by college deans
- Choice of two educational sessions
- Transportation between sessions
- Closing reception at the Huntington Club at Spartan Stadium

Sessions and events listed in this catalog will be included in the registration fee at no additional cost, unless otherwise noted. If an “extra activity” does note an additional cost, it will be paid directly to the provider upon arrival.

Please note: registration is required for all events, regardless of cost.

PARKING AND TRANSPORTATION

If you’re staying off campus, parking will be available at the Kellogg Hotel & Conference Center during the day. Please ask for parking validation at the Alumni University registration desk.

Transportation to class sessions and tours via the buses will be available from the front entrance of the Kellogg Hotel & Conference Center. Please board the appropriate bus at least 15 minutes prior to your scheduled session.

Abrams Planetarium Shows: “Phantom of the Night Sky” and “Chasing the Ghost Particle”

Limited to 50

Cost: $2

Payment is made directly to Abrams Planetarium upon arrival and can be made by cash, check or credit card.

Phantom of the Sky

Join us as we showcase an exciting exploration of dark matter, from the Big Bang to its anticipated discovery at the Large Hadron Collider. See the first hints of its existence through the eyes of Fritz Zwicky, the scientist who coined the term “dark matter”. Phantom of the Universe explores the work being done at the Large Hadron Collider with the Atlas experiment.

Chasing the Ghost Particle

Deep in the ice at the heart of Antarctica, IceCube, the biggest and strangest detector in the world, waits for mysterious messengers from the cosmos. Scientists are using tiny and elusive particles called neutrinos to explore the most extreme places in the universe. These ghostly neutrinos give us an exclusive way to study powerful cosmic engines, such as exploding stars and black holes.

Business Golf
Forest Akers Golf Course
Presenter: Jan Brintnall, MSU Professor, The School of Hospitality Business and LGPA Member Professional

You know that business is about relationships, networks and connections, but did you know that the golf course can be a better location than your office for a meeting, brainstorming session, team building activity or product launch? Besides expanding your network, building relationships, and meeting new clients, business golf allows you to form more personal connections and learn about an associate’s true character. Learn how business golf should be a part of your professional toolbox and how getting out of the office and on to the course can advance your career. This interactive session includes an overview of how to use golf in business and hands-on practice with putting, chipping and full swing instruction.

Please dress for the weather in casual golf attire including golf or athletic shoes. Bring your own clubs if desired. Clubs will be provided for those without clubs.

The Art of Civil Discourse
Room 116
Presenter: Will Repko, Instructor, MSU Honors College

Civil discourse had taken a turn in recent years. This session will contain tips on how to win an argument without bulldozing your opinion. Learn how to study the problem, understand the arguments on all sides and discuss what solutions work best.
Service Based Learning — 50 Years Strong

Room 122

Presenters: Dan DiMaggio, Director, Student Engagement, MSU Alumni Office; K.C. Keyton, Program Coordinator, Co-Curricular Community Engagement Programs Center for Service Learning and Civic Engagement

Celebrating its 50th anniversary this year, the MSU Center for Service Learning and Civic Engagement is the oldest office of its kind on a university campus. In partnership with the campus community, the Center prepares students for lifelong civic and social responsibility in an increasingly diverse and global society. This session will focus on the wide range of programs provided by the Center, current student initiatives and statistics and the campus Spartans Will. SERVE partnership.

A 60-Year Curriculum? — SOLD OUT

Room 118

Presenter: Dr. R. Sam Larson, Assistant Dean, MSU Operations & Finance

A 60-year curriculum is a term being used to describe a relationship between student and institution that extends far beyond graduation into the career years and beyond. This sounds intriguing and perhaps even appropriate given our land-grant mission, but what might it mean in practice? In this session, we explore how MSU creates a seamless experience between undergraduate (and graduate) study and continuing education long after graduation.

Migratory Birds at the Corey Marsh Research Center

Corey Marsh Research Center, Laingsburg, MI

Presenter: Jen Owen, MSU Associate Professor, Department of Fisheries & Wildlife

Take a ride out to the Corey Marsh Ecological Research Center and see firsthand how MSU students are engaging in research of migratory birds and the bird banding process. Learn why banding takes place, band a bird and have fun releasing it back to the wild. The 400-acre research center is the center for scientific research in natural resource restoration and management and collects long-term data on the health of the land bird population during breeding and migratory seasons.

Beyond the Classroom: Supporting our Student Population

Room 124

Presenters: Andrea Martineau, Program Coordinator, Fostering Academics, Mentoring Excellence (Fa.m.E) Program; Tana Fedewa, Director, MSU Sexual Assault Program; Dawn Kepler, MSU College Recovery Community Coordinator; Cara Ludlow, Alcohol & Drug Counselor, MSU Collegiate Recovery Community; Nicole Edmonds, Director of the MSU Student Food Bank

This session will showcase unique programs that provide MSU students with the tools they need to be successful academically while also caring for their mental, emotional and physical health. The session will feature a panel-style conversation highlighting Fa.m.E, MSU Sexual Assault Program, the Collegiate Recovery Community and the MSU Food Bank.

Creativity - Fear, Fulfillment and Life

Room 126

Presenter: Dr. Karl Gude, Director Media Sandbox and Professor of Practice, School of Journalism

Though most people don’t believe this, we’re all born with creativity, but somehow most of us lose our creative confidence and ability as time passes. In this session, we’ll explore why that happened, what that means to our lives and how we can get it back.
African-American Genealogy and the People of the Historic Slave Trade
Room B110F
Presenters: Vicki Essenmacher, Director of Marketing, MSU Alumni Office and avid Genealogist; Walter Hawthorne III, Associate Dean of Academic & Student Affairs; Dean Rehberger, Director of MATRIX and Associate Professor, Department of History

Did you know that MSU received a $1.47 million Mellon Foundation Grant to build a massive slave trade database that will change the way scholars and the public understand African slavery? Because slaves were rarely listed by name on traditional genealogy documents before the Civil War and the emancipation of their ancestors, this database could have a significant impact on African-American genealogy. Attendees will learn about the project from co-investigators and MSU faculty Walter Hawthorne and Dean Rehberger and will learn tips from a local genealogist on additional ways to research African-American ancestors before the 1870 census.

Food Safety and What Making Food at Home Has to Do with It
Room 108
Presenter: Darrell Donahue, Professor & Chairperson, MSU Biosystems and Agricultural Engineering

In this lively and interactive session, Dr. Darrell Donahue will share a brief overview of the American food safety processes that our food producers follow. He will also discuss the best practices of food safety techniques for use in your own kitchen while making a sandwich. Everyone will learn something new in this session as the class will be able to point out cross-contamination opportunities Donahue made while preparing his sandwich.

Volunteers Welcome the World to MSU
Room 130
Presenters: Lisa Homeniuk, President of Community Volunteers for International Programs; Joy Shantz, Coordinator, Communications & Outreach Coordinator, Office of International Students and Scholars

You can be a helping hand and a friendly face. Learn about MSU’s international student and scholar population on campus and explore ways you can welcome them through short-term and long-term volunteer opportunities. This session will be interactive with a panel discussion of current volunteers and students.

LUNCH
FRIDAY, MAY 31 PRE-REGISTRATION REQUIRED FOR ALL EVENTS.

11:30 a.m.-2 p.m.
Eat At State Food Truck & Dairy Store Ice Cream

The MSU Eat At State Food Truck will be available outside of Wells Hall to purchase a selection of menu items, including the ever popular smoked cheddar cheeseburger and other delicious choices. Vegan and gluten friendly options will also be available. A Dairy Store ice cream cart will also be available outside Wells Hall for you to enjoy, compliments of the MSU Alumni Office.

12:15–1:30 p.m.
Honors College Luncheon

Eustace-Cole Hall, Rooms 207 and 208
For Honors College Alumni and One Guest Only

The Honors College is happy to welcome back any Honors College alumni to join them for a luncheon at the Honors College. For more information, please contact Tonya Frisbey at Frisbey2@msu.edu.
