Nature’s Kennel, Michigan’s premier dog sledding destination, is owned by Michigan State alums Ed Stielstra ’91, Lyman Briggs College and Tasha Stielstra ’98, College of Education. Nature’s Kennel is located in the Eastern Upper Peninsula of Michigan and is home to 160 magnificent Alaskan Huskies. Both Ed and Tasha are well-accomplished mushers and Ed has completed seven Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Races.

This unique winter adventure offers you the opportunity to drive your own dog team or to take a ride with the sled dogs of Nature’s Kennel. Also included is a presentation about Nature’s Kennel and how Ed and Tasha went from MSU grads to business owners. You will go behind the scenes as you learn about this extremely unique business. You will also have the opportunity to enjoy a bit of Upper Peninsula winter splendor with a trip to Tahquamenon Falls State Park where Park Naturalist and MSU alum Theresa Neal ’03 will lead you on a private snowshoe hike.

Chamberlin’s is nestled high on a bluff overlooking Big Manistique Lake in Michigan’s Upper Peninsula. This incredible lakeside country inn offers charming accommodations and casual fine dining. Rich in History, this gracious 7500 square ft., 19th century-style lakeside dwelling was built by a railroad company to serve as a passenger hotel near the Curtis train station.
Trip Itinerary:

Thursday, March 5th

6:30 pm Dinner at Chamberlin’s Ole Forest Inn.
Welcome to winter in the Upper Peninsula! Following dinner, you will get an introduction to Nature’s Kennel Iditarod Racing Team with owner Tasha Stielstra. Tasha will give a short PowerPoint presentation about Nature’s Kennel Sled Dogs and Ed’s past participation Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race and Ed’s past participation in the Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

Friday, March 6th

7:30 am Breakfast at Chamberlin’s Ole Forest Inn

9:00 am Dog Sledding at Nature’s Kennel
Try your hand at mushing your own team or take a ride in the dog sled. Our dog sledding trip is designed for beginners. You will meet our fabulous guides (and sled dogs) and learn all the basics of mushing. You will also receive instruction necessary to mush your own five-dog team on our scenic ten mile trail. Or, if you prefer, you can ride in the sled with the guide.

1:00 pm Lunch at Tahquamenon Falls Brewery, Tahquamenon Falls State Park

2:00 pm Snowshoe Hike with Tahquamenon Falls State Park Naturalist Theresa Neal ’03
Enjoy a scenic hike at Tahquamenon Falls State Park. Theresa will talk about the park’s history, winter in the Upper Peninsula and will answer your questions about Tahquamenon Falls. You will also have time to explore the Upper Falls of Tahquamenon Falls. Snowshoes are available to use at no cost or you are welcome to bring your own.

6:00 pm Dinner at Chamberlin’s Ole Forest Inn
Enjoy a fantastic dinner and relax in front of the giant fireplace after a great day of winter activities. There will be a slide show of the photos taken from the day and everyone will be able to share mushing stories.

Saturday, March 7th

9:00 am Breakfast. Departure at your leisure. Please note that the ground transportation van to Marquette will depart at 9:30 am.

Transportation is provided on Friday to and from all locations (Chamberlin’s, Nature’s Kennel, Tahquamenon Falls, and return to Chamberlin’s).
